

Pre-Assessment Investigation Task

Unit: What does it mean to be a Global Citizen?

Topic: Global Citizen Portfolio

Statement of Inquiry: To what extent can the power of individual agency, expressed through small everyday actions, lead to meaningful global change?

Homework Task (Research Preparation)

Scenario: You will choose a global issue that the world is facing at present and an individual who has contributed meaningful action towards it. Research on the chosen global issue and a significant individual who has contributed, for example:

- Climate Change (Greta Thunberg)
- Plastic Pollution (Boyan Slat)
- Human Rights (Craig Kielberg)
- Access to Education (Malala Yousafzai)

Do not choose the same examples as above (Especially avoid choosing the significant individuals already discussed in class.

Outline its causes and effects. Describe how individuals and communities are working to address it, suggest strategies to reduce the impact.

Learning Objective: Applying research skills to find information on a global issue and a significant individual who has helped resolve it.
